

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Ch 135.2

Thrown Into Prison (Part 2)

The chaotic sound of hoof beats was already approaching, so Shang Jun hit and tapped Qi Feng Hua's acupuncture point. Qi Feng Hua was surprised, "Xiao Jun, what are you doing?!"

Carefully putting Qi Feng Hua on his side to lie over three interlacing tree branches, Shang Jun faintly replied, "The acupuncture points will be automatically unlocked after four hours."

Qi Feng Hua finally understood what he meant by saying this. He could not move, so he could only open his eyes wide as he said anxiously, "Xiao Jun, you can't..."

Before he finished speaking, Shang Jun tapped his voice acupuncture again, tore off a piece of his clothes and fixed Qi Feng Hua's shoulder and arm. In the dense forest, the sound of the horses' hoofs was getting closer and closer; if they did not find the person who they were looking for, they would never give up. So Shang Jun lowered his head, choked up and said, "I'm sorry Little Uncle. If I can't go back, please help me take care of Xiao Er."

Qi Feng Hua's staring eyes were full of both anger and begging, as they seemed to say, Xiao Jun, you can't do this, you look at me!! Qi Feng Hua's eyes were almost bleeding, but Shang Jun refused to look up at him.

Jun, don't!

Leaping down sharply, his dark back instantly disappeared in front of his eyes.

Jumping directly onto the horseback with great skill, Shang Jun patted Shuang Shuang on the neck and smiled lightly, "Shuang Shuang, for the people we want to protect, let's fight side by side."

As if she understood what he was saying, Shuang Shuang issued a long neigh, and like a bow full of arrows, the silver-white lightning horse galloped in the wind.

Shuang Shuang's speed was very fast, and the sound of hoof beats behind her seemed to be gradually going a little farther away. She ran tens of miles away, while Shang Jun tightly clutched his own chest. The tearing pain was more intense than ever, and he could hardly hold her rein tightly. While holding on to her reins, Shuang Shuang seemed to feel Shang Jun's pain, and slowed down a bit. At this moment, on the initially dark trail, several wrist-sized thick hemp ropes popped out of the mud crossing the road ahead. Shuang Shuang quickly raised her front hooves and stopped immediately. Shuang Shuang was almost perpendicular to the ground, so Shang Jun grabbed Shuang Shuang's mane and did not fall off.

Frightened, more than a hundred Iron Armored Army soldiers sprang out from the grass, and the long arrows in their hands were all pointed towards Shang Jun. Shang Jun squinted his eyes and the man in white was sitting on a horse, as if he had been waiting for him for a long time.

Seeing Shang Jun alone on horseback, the white-clothed man's eyes flashed slightly; what about the other youngster?! This would allow him to escape, so the white-clothed man was slightly angry, but his voice was still without any intonation while still cold and hard, "It seems that I underestimated you, Shang Jun." The last time he saw him, he was a man half dead. With such internal strength, he was hardly an opponent, but even though there had been soldiers chasing after him all the way, he could still hide a person. Shang Jun, what a good Shang Jun!

Slowly sitting upright after some difficulty, Shang Jun sneered and without hiding his disdain, he hummed, "And I, I overestimated you. I thought that you were also a number one fighter, but I didn't expect that you are Long Qu Mu's dog. It's really disappointing."

"A dog?" The dull voice of the man in white finally fluctuated a little bit as scarlet flashed across his eyes under his silver cold mask.

"In order not to disappoint you, I'll take your life." The murderous husky tone of his cold voice made Shuang Shuang uneasy, and she kept raising her forefoot back and forth. The Iron Armored Army behind her also raced up and fought back and forth, blocking Shang Jun in the middle. The hand of Shang Jun that held the soft sword was already shaking uncontrollably. Is the effect of the ju yuan strong pill going to pass?! What a pity that he could not kill him first!

The white-clothed man slowly raised his hand and pointed at Shang Jun with countless bows full of sharp arrows.

Shang Jun tried to lift his internal strength to pull the soft sword, but he could not even pull the sword. A turbid internal strength rose up inside him, as his throat tasted sweet, when a mouthful of blood sprayed out onto the white mane of Shuang Shuang, causing it to turn instantly scarlet in color. Has this day finally arrived?! Looking up at the stars in the sky, Shang Jun suddenly laughed.

Father, Mother, daughter really did her best!

*****

Sian's notes:

Oh no, poor SJ!! He's gonna get caught by this villain. 😞. Who's gonna rescue him?? I'm somewhat surprised that Xie Lie Yue still hasn't shown up at this chapter. I have no idea how many chapters this book has. Lol... I know it's more than 154 chapters but we're at chapter 135 and the other friend who happens to be the future queen of Hai Yue hasn't shown up. It's weird!