Ch 142.2

Is It You?!

Unconsciously clenching his hand into a fist, You Xiao roared, "My business has nothing to do with you."

"Alright!" The white-clothed man became impatient and cursed, "But this is not the place where you can run wild, so you get out of here!"

You Xiao ignored him and stood in front of Shang Jun in a daze. The light in his eyes was thought-provoking.

As far as he knew, there was a feast between You Xiao and Shang Jun. Today, it seemed that he had misunderstood. A calculation flashed in the eyes of the white-clothed man and he smiled, "You want him? Yes, the old man agrees to let him go."

You Xiao looked at him in disbelief, "When have you been so behaved?"

The white-clothed man shrugged and continued to provoke You Xiao, "I learned from you!" In fact, whether or not he would let people go, it depended on his mood, but he was very interested to see if You Xiao would disobey the old man for Shang Jun. There must be a very wonderful show with the old man.

Before You Xiao answered, the white-clothed man smiled in a good mood, "I won't prevent you from reminiscing; I'll wait for your good news!" After he finishing speaking, he leisurely stepped out of the stone room.

Several of the people in black within the stone room looked at each other not knowing if they should go out or not. You Xiao was a step faster than them and grabbed the man holding the iron whip, lifted the back of his neck and kicked his vest. While the clothes of the man in black remained in You Xiao's hands, the man rolled out of the stone room and You Xiao whispered, "Get out of here!"

The two people in the dark room ran out immediately.

Chaotically putting his clothes on Shang Jun's chest, You Xiao could not tell how he felt at this time. Hearing the reports from his subordinates that Shang Jun was arrested by Yan Li, he ran over without even thinking about it. Flogging him and teaching him like this, was it not what he had been thinking about for a long time?! But what was he doing now?!

Shang Jun sighed, "You didn't die." Hearing the news of You Xiao's death at that time, he still felt sorry for a little bit, but he did not expect to meet him again. There was actually such a situation like this.

You Xiao's hand stiffened, so he could not wait for him to die?! Withdrawing his hand, You Xiao replied coldly, "Are you disappointed?!"

Shang Jun smiled softly and did not reply to him.

Staring at Shang Jun's beautiful face, You Xiao whispered, "You are a woman!" Why did he fight so many times and still did not notice it at all? Was it reasonable to think that women should not be as firm or persistent as he was, or as arrogant?

Slowly raising his head, Shang Jun returned his words to him, "Are you disappointed?!"

"I'm very disappointed." You Xiao was a little annoyed, "You let me have no chance to fight you fairly. It's meaningless to win against you."

Shang Jun was a woman. This opponent whom he once thought could arouse his desire to fight, the best enemy in this life, was actually a woman. Then what was there to fight between him and her? How could it not let him down?!

Did it make no sense to win?! The anger in Shang Jun's heart faintly picked up and he hummed, "How brave do you have to be in your defeat?" When did he ever beat him in the past, did he think so too early?!

Shang Jun kept his head down because of pain and fatigue and his words were originally meant to irritate You Xiao. As he lowered his head, he made You Xiao misunderstand that he was looking down at his disabled foot. After falling in to Xuanyuan Yi's trap, he fell off the mountain stream. Although his life could be saved, the meridian on his right foot was completely destroyed, so this stumped leg was the most painful in his heart.

At this time, Shang Jun mentioned that he was defeated and he hit You Xiao's self-esteem. The anger and sorrow in his heart made You Xiao lose his mind. Suddenly, his hand grabbed Shang Jun's neck and slowly tightened it.

The iron claws on his throat grabbed Shang Jun's neck so that he could not breathe. As he was staring coldly at You Xiao's crazy eyes, Shang Jun whispered with difficulty, "You can work harder... as I may... die faster."

Shang Jun's broken voice and flushed face finally made You Xiao regain his sanity and he hurriedly withdrew his hands. You Xiao turned his back, panting. He almost killed him, why did he let go? Why was his heart beating chaotically, why were his hands shaking?!

"Shang Jun, you really deserve to die!" With only a sigh and a curse, You Xiao rushed out without looking back.

Shang Jun no longer had the energy to distinguish the complex emotions behind this sentence, as his eyes went dark and he passed out.

Sian's notes:

Wow!! What a turn of event?! Who would have thought that You Xiao would be the person who actually rescued our SJ. Another potential male lead found out that SJ is a woman while the actual male lead is still in the dark!!!
