

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Ch 148.1

Rescue (Part 2)

Shang Jun was dragged and they walked in a curved passage for about half an hour. Suddenly, he felt the people around him had stopped; a few shadows swayed in front of him, when the restraints on his shoulders were loosened and Shang Jun softly fell down. When he was about to hit the hard stone brick, his waist suddenly tightened again and Shang Jun felt a pair of powerful hands wrap around his waist, while a wide cloak was also wrapped around him, wrapping him up tightly.

Shang Jun reluctantly opened his eyes, but he still couldn't see the person in front of him. The hands that surrounded him, carried him onto his shoulders with one strong movement. Being upside down like this, Shang Jun only saw the corpses of the men in black lying on the ground. The other people with face coverings were carrying the bodies and threw them into the dead end of the passage.

These people were not his, so who were they? What do you want to do?

Shang Jun twisted his body uneasily and a cold male voice whispered, "Don't move."

The person carrying him was actually... You Xiao! Shang Jun's already chaotic brain was becoming more and more confused at this moment; weren't You Xiao and the man in white in the same group?! Or were they playing this play... What tricks were they performing?!

Not knowing why, but after confirming it was You Xiao, Shang Jun calmed down and didn't bother to move anymore. He would just wait and see how things would change. He didn't have the ability to change anything now anyway but could he (YX) stop running so fast?! Because his (YX) shoulders knocked the wounds on his shoulders and it hurt so much!

After You Xiao ran wild for a while, Shang Jun felt the dazzling sunlight. This was the first time he felt the warmth of the sun in more than ten days. He wanted to open his eyes, but they stung from the sudden light.

On the other side, Yu Feng who was ambushing on the slope opposite to the dark room, also saw this strange group of people rushing out from the other exit of the dark room. There were seven or eight men in black with face coverings, while the man in the middle was carrying another person on his shoulders. Judging by his body shape, he looked like their master, but he couldn't see his appearance. He was afraid that it was the enemy's plan to move the tiger away from the mountain, so Yu Feng didn't dare to act rashly. After thinking for a bit, he calmly said, "You stay here and continue to observe; you guys, come with me."

"Alright." A few people slowly approached the man in black under the cover of the bushes.

After finally getting used to the noon sun, Shang Jun slowly raised his head, but You Xiao suddenly stopped. His whole body froze and the hoarse male voice that caused people to tremble immediately came into his ears, "You Xiao, you even dared to snatch my own people; you really have guts!"

Yan Lie's eyes were full of frost with a murderous aura in his eyes and with the evil radiating from his body, it caused You Xiao take a step back unconsciously. It seemed that Yan Lie was really angry. Growing up together, no one knew Yan Lie better than him. He was a lonely, weird, cruel and cold-hearted person. Maybe today, he would not only be unable to save Shang Jun, but he would also die here.

Talking too much was useless, so You Xiao made a gesture to the people next to him, and the people behind immediately changed their formation and protected You Xiao behind them. You Xiao stepped back all the way, carrying Shang Jun to go to another direction.

"Are you trying to leave?!" Yan Lie sneered; one could only see him raise his hand gently, and the dozen men in black behind him immediately unsheathed their swords.

"Don't leave anyone alive!" The cold words were without hesitation. Behind him, the ghostly figure of the men in black quickly flew out and went straight to You Xiao.

This group of people were extremely fast, and their moves were weird. You Xiao's subordinates were not their opponents at all. Soon, the long sword of the men in black surrounded You Xiao.

Just after taking the other's move, You Xiao immediately understood that these people were phantom dead soldiers whom Yan Lie had trained for many years. Their martial arts were on par with him. But after a few moves, he couldn't stand it anymore, as blood was present in many places on his arm, and as a last resort, You Xiao threw Shang Jun who was on his shoulder into the bushes beside him.

After tumbling a few times in the grass, Shang Jun laid down in the bushes, unable to stand up for a while.

Looking at the two groups of people who were fighting in front of him, Yu Feng, who was hiding in the bushes, signaled to the people around him to hold still. He quietly approached the person who was thrown aside, with the wide cloak wrapped him tightly. Yu Feng thought for a while, before grabbing the man's shoulders and turning him over.

After seeing the man's face clearly, Yu Feng's voice also trembled, "Master..." On that handsome face that was once unparalleled, there were several ferocious welts, which stretched from the face to the neck. Yu Feng couldn't imagine what kind of torture the body under the cloak must have been subjected to.

Helping Shang Jun up, Yu Feng said urgently, "Master? Master, wake up!"

Shang Jun's lips were chapped and pale and his face was dark blue. His eyes were clearly open, but he seemed to have no focus, so he could not see him. Yu Feng panicked and called out to the people in the bushes ahead, "Come here."

The lurking people rushed forward, and they were all heartbroken by the tragic situation of Shang Jun. Was this their handsome and refined master?! At the moment when they were in a trance, two men in black rushed towards Shang Jun. Pulling out his long sword, Yu Feng met the man in black who was chasing after him, and shouted to the man behind him, "Take the Master away. Hurry up!"

The four of them neatly helped Shang Jun and ran towards the direction of the slope, where dozens of people were ambushing, and when they reached the slope, they disappeared quickly.

The person who suddenly came out of the grass made Yan Lie frown slightly.